2 Here comes Pete
3 strolling down the street,
4 rocking red shoes on his four furry feet.
5 Pete is going to school,
6 and he sings this song:
8 "I'm rocking in my school shoes." (*2)
9 Pete is sitting at his desk when his teacher says,
10 "Come on, Pete, down that hall
11 to a room with books on every wall."
12
13 Where is Pete going? The library!
14 Pete has never been to the library before!
15 Does Pete worry?

26 Goodness, no!
27 He sits down with his friends and sings his song:
28
29 "I'm eating in my school shoes." (*2)

30 Pete and his friends are playing outside
31 on a green, grassy field with swings and tall slides.
32
33 Where is Pete?
34 The playground!
35 Kids are running in every direction!
36 Does Pete worry?
37 Goodness, no!
38 He slides, and swings, and sings his song:

42 I'm singing in my school shoes.
43 I'm painting in my school shoes.
44 I'm adding in my school shoes.
45 I'm writing in my school shoes.
46
47 When school is done, Pete rides the bus home.
48 Pete's mom asks him,
49 "What did you do at school today?"
50 And Pete says,
51 I was rocking in my school shoes, (*2)
52 And I will do it again tomorrow!

1 The Giving Tree

2 Once there was a tree....

3 and she loved a little boy.

4 And everyday the boy would come and he would gather her
5 leaves and make them into crowns and play king of the forest.

6 He would climb up her trunk and swing from her branches
7 and eat apples.

8 And they would play hide-and-go-seek.

9 And when he was tired, he would sleep in her shade.

10 And the boy loved the tree...very much.

11 And the tree was happy.

12 But time went by.

13 And the boy grew older.

14 And the tree was often alone.

15 Then one day the boy came to the tree and the tree said, "Come,

16 Boy, come and climb up my trunk and swing from my branches

17 and eat apples and play in my shade and be happy."

18 "I am too big to climb and play" said the boy.

19 "I want to buy things and have fun. I want some money."

20 "I'm sorry," said the tree, "but I have no money.

21 I have only leaves and apples.

22 Take my apples, Boy, and sell them in the city. Then you will
23 have money and you will be happy."

24 And so the boy climbed up the tree and gathered her apples and 25 carried them away.

26 And the tree was happy.

27 But the boy stayed away for a long time....

28 and the tree was sad.

29 And then one day the boy came back and the tree shook with 30 joy and she said,

31 "Come, Boy, climb up my trunk and swing from my branches
32 and be happy."

33 "I am too busy to climb trees," said the boy.

34 "I want a house to keep me warm," he said.

35 "I want a wife and I want children, and so I need a house.

1 Words and Actions Should Be the Same

2 There once was a boy who loved sweets.

3 He always asked for sweets from his father. His father was a 21

4 poor man and he could not afford sweets. The little boy did not 22

5 understand this, and he demanded sweets all the time. The boy's 23

6 father thought hard about how to stop the child from asking for 24

7 so many sweets. There was a very holy man living nearby. The 25

8 boy's father had an idea. He decided to take the boy to the great 26

9 man who might be able to persuade the child to stop asking for 27

10 sweets all the time.

11 The boy and his father went to the great man. The father said 29

12 to him, "O great saint, could you tell my son to stop asking for 30

13 sweets which I cannot afford?" The great man was in difficulty 31

14 because he liked sweets himself. How could he demand the boy 32

15 to give up asking for sweets? The holy man told the father to 33

16 bring his son back after one month. 34

17 During that month, the holy man gave up sweets, and when 35

18 the boy and his father returned after a month, the holy man said 36

19 to the boy "My dear child, will you stop asking for sweets that 20 your father cannot afford?"

From then on, the boy stopped asking for sweets.

The boy's father questioned, "Why did you not ask my son to give up asking for sweets when we came to you a month ago?"

The saint replied, "How could I ask a boy to give up sweets when I loved sweets myself. Last month I gave up eating sweets." A man's action is much more powerful than his words.

When we ask someone to do something, we must do it ourselves also. What you don't want done to you, don't do to others.

1 Duck for President

2 Running a farm is very hard work. At the end of each day,

3 Farmer Brown is covered from head to toe in hay, horsehair, 4 seeds, sprouts, feathers, filth, mud, muck, and coffee stains. He

5 doesn't smell very good, either. The animals have chores to do, 6 too.

7 Pigs-clean under the beds. Cows-weed the garden.

8 Sheep-sweep the barn. Duck-take out the trash, mow the lawn,

9 grind coffee beans. At the end of each day, the pigs are covered

10 in lint bunnies.

11 The cows are covered in weeds. The sheep are covered in 12 dust. And Duck is covered in tiny bits of grass and espresso

13 beans. Duck did not like to do chores. He did not like picking

14 tiny bits of grass and espresso beans out of his feathers. "Why

15 is Farmer Brown in charge, anyway?" thought Duck. "What we 16 need is an election!" He made a sign and hung it up in the barn.

17 Farmer Brown MUST GO! Farm Election Tomorrow!

18

19 The next morning, Farmer Brown found a poster on his front

20 door. VOTE DUCK! For a Kinder, Gentler Farm! Farmer

21 Brown was furious. He ran to the barn and found the animals

22 registering to vote. VOTER REGISTRATION.

23 Voters must: 1. Live on the farm 2. Show valid ID 3. Be at least

24 this tall. The mice got together and protested the height

25 requirement. So Duck crossed it off. On Election Day each of

26 the animals filled out a ballot and placed it in a box. The vote

27 was counted, and the results were posted on the barn wall.

28 Farmer Brown:6 Duck:20. Farmer Brown demanded a recount.

29 One sticky ballot was found stuck to the bottom of a pig. The 30 new tally was: Farmer Brown:6 Duck:21. The voters had 31 spoken. Duck was officially in charge.
